

Predictions 2009 & beyond, part 2

As I predicted in my article in the January issue of Oracle 20-20 most people got hope things would get better in May, June and July. And that happened. However in August for the second time the Saturn-Uranus opposition has set in lasting until the end of October and the distrust and cheating which characterizes this position came back, this time hidden for the common people and a lot of insiders. ‘Yes we can and we get out of the economic mess’ you hear and read everywhere, picturing an optimistic best case scenario relying on the magic of self fulfilling prophecy. Do you believe it? I don’t. In the contrary the worst case scenario will take place. There is no ‘we’, especially not during the Saturn – Uranus opposition. Hesiodos the prime writer of the Greek mythology pictures Saturn as a cheater, the most feared child of Uranus and Gaia with his misleading and fraudulent thoughts.

After the Saturn-Uranus opposition the square between Saturn and Pluto emerges in the middle of October 2009. The economic disaster breaks through suddenly and for many unexpectedly as a result of all this pep talk and lying behind the curtain. It will come all of a sudden because the square sets in a little before Saturn enters Libra when the square is already almost full. Before that Saturn was in Virgo and just like Pluto (in Capricorn) in an earth sign which for that reason does not count as a square. Not much later on November 15 the square reaches its peak and the economic disaster will show itself in its full seize comparable with the economic crash in the thirties. The economy will reach a world wide stand still. Unlike the thirties there is nowadays a monitoring of the economic data which should give some control but it will happen just as unexpectedly as in those times because the statistical data have become a tool of manipulation (fraud). This Saturn-Pluto square lasts until April 8 2010 to come back again in July 2010.

The Saturn – Pluto square features fear, harsh conditions and severe and rigid thinking. Libra stands for judgement and fairness in relating. Saturn in Libra gives a hard fight about distributing the cake in a fair way and in this case about portioning out the debt problem. A blanket of greediness will cover the whole world. A harsh fight for the money. Trade war. Who is going to pay for it? No matter which decisions the authorities will make the taxpayer will eventually pay for it. Supporting the bankers furthermore will result in a too big state debt deficit causing high inflation and not supporting them will result in huge bankruptcies and layoffs. When you as an individual are stuck in debts no delay in repaying is tolerated anymore. The money tap will be closed and merciless you will be kicked out of your house and everything of value will be taken away from you. When you are rich you will get sleepless nights about how not to lose your money. No more safe haven anymore for your money. All your financial securities will disappear and agonising taxations will be your part. The middle class will fear for their jobs to the maximum on top of the extra taxations.

From April until half of July 2010 the Saturn-Pluto square fades away but in return the Saturn-Uranus opposition will show up again. This means bargaining and bargaining without any result because of the distrust. The worst is still to come between the end of July and the first half of August 2010 when the T-square of Saturn-Pluto-Uranus will take place which is a similar constellation as in 1930. The economic crash will be just as bad. The Uranus-Pluto square will cause mass hysteria. Next Uranus will go back in Pisces and the Saturn – Pluto square will last until October 2010. After that there will be some relief, but the Saturn-Pluto square will come back again in April 2011 and the Uranus-Pluto square in March 2011 lasting until 2017.

From April 23 until June 15 2010 Jupiter opposes Saturn helped by a conjunction with Uranus which will lead to some giant legal prosecutions. The culprits (bankers) will be jailed. But there are too many culprits, rich from their bonuses, and the Jupiter-Saturn opposition lasts only one and a half month. So a few scapegoats will be the whipping guy to satisfy the public anger and that's it.

Examining the last time Pluto went through Capricorn (1762 – 1778)

we find some astonishing similarities. Both France and England, the leading powers of that time, were in perpetual financial jeopardy because of their wars over the control of the colonies. Their response to this was ever heavier taxations which eventually caused the American revolution and a little later the French revolution. The financial crisis culminating in a valuta crisis lasting at least 14 years will be our lot. This doom will be worldwide, not only in the West, only to realise the necessity of a fundamental change which starts off in 2012 when the square of Uranus and Pluto will change the world in its roots. I do not believe there will be a violent revolution in the West but in China there will be severe uprisings.
